WA-SEE-WIC

Wa-See-Wic Cottage, on the shore,
Beckons me with all its lore:
Blooming roses, at one side,
Do not a bit their beauty hide;
Plants and flowers, with all their might,
Reach toward the sun, in sheer delight.

Rolling hills and mountains high,
Listen to the pine trees sigh,
And the birches, slim and white,
Seem symbolic of what's right.

I see the lake, so placid, calm,
The sight of it is natural balm.
Its sandy shores and water clear
Make me think of all that's dear.
I want a rest and beauty too:
Wa-See-Wic, I come to you.
